YOUR AID ASKED

PRESIDENT APPEALS TO FRIENDS OF NORMAL FOR HELP.

APPROPRIATIONS SMALL

A Statement of the Conditions Confronting the Normal Management at This Time.

The joint committee of the legislature has made its recommendations for appropriations to be made to the educational institutions of the state. That report is a disappointment to the administration of the Northwest Normal school.

The junketing committee recommended $133,000, but the appropriations committee has cut that amount to $112,000.

How much of the burning of the capitol is to be charged up to the Northwest Normal I do not know. It is true that with two items cut, the item for salaries and the one for supplies, the school cannot in the next two years meet the demands that are upon it.

We can get along without some things, but a strong faculty sufficient to man every department and an equipment that will make our work efficient are indispensable and must be provided.

The committee has recommended $5,000 for a faculty, and we asked $80,000. If the legislature will give us $75,000 for biennial period we can do the work and meet the demand that is upon us.

We asked $20,000 for quipment and $1,000 is recommended. We must have $15,000 or suffer. If the total appropriation can be increased $13,400 it puts the school that has struggled through so many different difficulties on its feet and will enable us to go to the field and compete for patronage.

Is it fair to make the investment already made by the state and then to cripple and handicap the administration of the school that it cannot meet what is expected of it and get blame if it does not succeed?

Our requests are very modest; in fact, we are now asking the legislature to give us only 80 per cent of the amount recommended for Springfield, 90 per cent of the amounts recommended for Kirksville and Warrensburg, and less than 60 per cent of the amount recommended for Cape Girardeau.

As we are making this plea for the very life of the institution, and are representing a constituency of nineteen counties that pay one-fifth of the revenue of the state, outside of the large cities, is it not fair that we shall have at least one-seventh of the appropriations made for the Normal schools when it has been shown conclusively that every item asked for by us is an actual need?

Now is the time for the friends of the school to speak. Let us concentrate all our efforts on an increase of the recommendations of the committee to $75,000 for salary and $15,000 for supplies. Write or telephone any friends you have in the house or senate and press this matter. The Commercial club will doubtless take action, and this is a matter that should deeply concern everybody who was interested in locating the Normal at Maryville and is now interested in that degree of success that can alone come from proper maintenance. A fine building and grounds without adequate maintenance would be a monumental advertisement of stupidity and wasteful extravagance. What will $13,400 mean to the great state of Missouri? It means hardship, inadequacy, and at least partial failure for the institution that is thus pleading for its very life.

Did the fire on the Capitol hill also consume the future success and usefulness of the educational institutions of the state?

Are these institutions which are the most valuable assets of the state to be depreciated because a bolt of lightning made necessary what every progressive citizen of Missouri has advocated?

Shall this great state take from the resources of her schools a single dollar to do that which can be done by the commonwealth without any sense of burden?

I care not how magnificent the new capitol may be, if a single foundation stone or a single panel in its gilded dome should be put there by money taken from the educational institutions of the state for their rightful support, that magnificent structure would be a disgrace to the great state of Missouri. Very truly,

H. K. TAYLOR.

FUNDS CUT DOWN

NORMAL WILL HAVE TO GET ALONG WITH LESS MONEY.

$112,323.23 IS AMOUNT

Bill Includes $11,600 for the Agricultural Department to Be Established Here.

The joint committee on appropriations has agreed on the sum of $112,323.23 with which to maintain the Northwest Normal school during the biennial period. The report of the junketing committee recommended an appropriation of $133,991 for this institution.

The report of the junketing committee on the Northwest Normal school is as follows:

This institution was really created four years ago, and appears to have had a good many difficulties. The attendance is small; when we were there, there were about 175 pupils in attendance. An enormous building has been constructed, far beyond the present need of the student body; indeed, it would probably be sufficient to accommodate all of the pupils who will be there a quarter of a century from now. The growth of the school, however little it has been, is not a fair criterion of its future.

At this time the work is being carried on under considerable embarrassment, and a great many difficulties, as the building is not yet completed, nor is heat or light provided for its operation. When it is well established it is to be hoped that it will have a rapid growth and develop into a most creditable institution. It has a beautiful site, with a fine body of land. Good will and harmony appears to prevail among the board, its officers and the community in general. The new president seems to have grasped the situation, is meeting in a business-like and practical way the difficulties, and, we believe, will soon put the institution upon a more healthy basis of operation.

The appropriation bill of $112,323.23 carried a total of $95,523.13 for the next two years, with a deficiency appropriation of $16,780.60 to pay for completion of the present building and the salaries. The appropriation for the school is as follows: For salaries of teachers, $65,000; for agricultural department and equipment, $11,600; supplies and equipment, $10,000; campus equipment, $1,500; library, $2,000; wiring power plant, $783.13; new roof central part, $200; walks and sewerage, $2,000; metal window strips, $1,440; light fixtures, $500; repair heating plant residence of president, $500. The deficiency of $16,780.60 was as follows: In equipment, $7,000; D. E. Marshall & Co., one contract, $7,662.83; another, $3,197.25; another, $3,173.95.

This bill carries appropriations as follows for other normal schools and state universities.

Kirksville, $191,000, and $3,000 deficiency; Warrensburg, $196,250, and $25,000 deficiency; Cape Girardeau, $228,260, and $6,000 deficiency; Springfield, $178,156, and $11,873 deficiency; Lincoln institute, $72,500, and $27,188 deficiency; state universtsiy, $502,000, and $17,222.76 deficiency, and $606,000 from collateral, inheritance tax with deficiency of $42,683.09, from same tax; School of Mines at Rolla, $50,000, with $166,000 from inheritance tax; fruit experiment station at Mountain Grove, $44,600, with deficiency, $2,396.78. The state university is allowed from collateral inheritance tax $25,000 for hog cholera serum; $75,000, experimental agricultural work, $100,000 for physical science building and $65,000 for library and assembly hall at Rolla.

TO COME UP FRIDAY

COURT WILL GIVE DECISION IN MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL.

WITNESSES TO BE HERE

Friday Morning, When Remarks of Juror Norman Will Be Taken Up by the Court.

Arguments for and against the motion for a new trial of Hez Rasco were heard before Judge Ellison today in the court room. A good sized crowd was in attendance and heard the proceedings. Hez Rasco was present and his aged father, Henry Rasco, of Guilford, also attended, sitting right behind his son.

The court will pass upon the motion Friday morning. In case the motion for new trial is overruled the court will pass sentence upon Hez Rasco, and then the attorneys for the defense will take an appeal to the supreme court. It will take several months for the supreme court to take any action on the matter, however.

The opinion of many is that the motion for a new trial will be overruled by the court, but this is merely speculative.

Court opened about 9 o'clock this morning and the court said:

"Before counsel began this matter with a view that I may adapt their argument, or whatever they may have to say, two of the conditions as they existed in mind, I will say that I have prepared a little statement of this case, but referring to the facts—evidence only—in which I have reached the conclusion subject to a reconsideration that there was evidence sufficient to warrant the verdict that was rendered. That is to say, that there is no ground to set aside the verdict because there was not evidence enough to support it."

Ellis G. Cook, for the defense, in opening his argument to the court said he would discuss only a few subjects, but that his contention was if evidence warrants the verdict, that it was incompetent. He proceeded to go into the remarks as made by Prosecutor Wright and Attorney Blagg for the state as to their impropriety and more than personal abuse of the defendant, Hez Rasco.

Mr. Cook then dwelt upon the testimony of the trainer of the bloodhounds, Elmer Noffsinger, and that it was an error for the state for the prosecuting attorney and the court to train, school and to tell him how to testify in this case. Judge Ellison said in reply that he did not know and was not aware that there was any objection on the part of the defense, and said that the witness was trying to tell, but didn't know how.

The bloodhound testimony was then taken up by Attorney Cook, and he admitted that the testimony would have been admissible if it had not been for jumping the trail.

Another matter taken up was that of the remarks of Joseph Norman on the day he came to Maryville, after he had been summoned as one of the 100 veniremen. Three affidavits were read, signed by Fred A. Bailey, B. O. Hoffsteader and Jesse A. Cox, saying that Norman said when asked what he was going to do with Rasco, replied: "I am going to hang the son of a ——." One occasion where the alleged remark is said to have been said was in Hoffsteader's restaurant in Clearmont and the other in Cox's livery barn.

Attorney Cook finished his argument by saying where a man is on trial for his life he ought to be tried by fair and impartial men.

Attorney Crawford then talked briefly in favor of the motion, and took up the matter of certain men allowing to be selected on the panel of forty. He mentioned Joseph Worl, M. R. Hays, B. E. Woods, Sanford Jones and J. A. Spears. Attorney Crawford spoke of the applause that broke out after the speech of M. E. Ford for the state to the jury, and the expressions that seemed to prevail in the court room prejudicial to the defendant.

Attorney Crawford spoke of the bloodhound testimony and the admissibility of that testimony, and a few other points in regard to sustaining the motion for a new trial.

Prosecutor Wright then took the argument for the state and replied to the points that the attorneys for the defense talked about.

"The testimony of Noffsinger and the supposed training of him was an effort on the part of the court and counsel to get the witness to understand the questions," said Prosecutor Wright. In regard to the bloodhound testimony, Mr. Wright said that the evidence showed that the dogs were following visible human foot tracks, and following one that had no heel plate on it. An Ohio authority was read to the court that undertakes to lay down the rule that bloodhound testimony is material and admissible.

The matter of the remarks of Juror Norman on the day before the trial started was next taken up by Mr. Wright. He said that Mr. Norman qualified under a rigid examination conducted by the court. Mr. Wright then read several affidavits stating that no such remarks as are said to have been made by Mr. Norman on this day, or January 29, were made. The affidavits were signed by A. Hoffsteader and P. Hoffsteader, the owners of the restaurant at Clearmont, at which place the alleged remark was said to have been made.

Another affidavit was signed by W. L. Perry, who was in the restaurant at that time, and he says that no such remark or no such language was used by Mr. Norman. The other affidavits were by Jasper Fisher and George M. Wilson.

There was no counter affidavit filed by the state in regard to the remarks of Norman to Jesse Cox in the livery barn, as no outsiders were present at that time, but Mr. Norman's affidavit says that he made no such remark nor used no such language to Cox, Bailey or anyone else.

Prosecuting Attorney Wright, at the afternoon session of the court, discussed the examination of jurors briefly, holding that while some may not have understood the first questions, later questions and the supplemental examination by the court were fully sufficient.

The opening statement of the prosecuting attorney and the outburst of applause by the spectators were then taken up. The court suggested that he believed the applause was in admiration of the very excellent address of the speaker (Mr. Ford) and not because of feeling against the defendant.

The incompetency of evidence offered by the state and the absence of a witness in the hearing for a continuance were discussed, and some complaints were brushed aside as immaterial.

Judge Ellison took occasion to say, however, that he did not blame counsel for defense in complaining bitterly over the demonstration of the spectators. Good people, he said, frequently do not realize the amount of harm they may do, and often force a court to grant a new trial at great expense to the state. Such demonstrations become a serious matter, and twelve men sitting as a jury may be unconsciously swayed by demonstrations from spectators. The officers of the court, however, he said, had been quick to suppress it, and the court was prompt to rebuke the spectators and admonish the jury to disregard it. More than this could not be done. Notwithstanding the seriousness of such an outbreak he did not feel under the circumstances that he would be justified in granting a new trial on this ground alone. There were some other matters, however, that he desired to examine into further, and he would not announce a decision at this time.

Mr. Cook, speaking for the defense, and also Mr. Williams, asked for an adjournment to give them time to secure counter affidavits to that of Juror Norman. They had not expected that he would deny the statement attributed to him, they said, and did not know that he had denied it until his affidavit was read in court this morning.

The court intimated that he would have to be thoroughly shown, but if it was a fact that a juror had sat on that jury with a settled and fixed conviction as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant from the beginning he was certainly an unfit juror. Such a condition, he said, would be "outrageous and disgraceful," and the juror would be doubly guilty of perjury. Mr. Blagg and Mr. Wright asserted their belief that the whole matter was very unjust to Mr. Norman, and that he was a highly reputable citizen, and further assured the court that they would not want a conviction under any such conditions as the defense charged.

After some further discussion Judge Ellison announced that he would adjourn the court until Friday morning at 9 o'clock, when all attorneys would be expected to have all the affidavits ready that they expected to present, and asked them, if possible, to produce the witnesses themselves instead of affidavits.

A BUSY SESSION

COMMERCIAL CLUB ACTED ON SEVERAL MATTERS.

WILL HELP CORN SHOW

The Club, in Addition to Moral Support, Appropriated $40 to Advertise Prof. Oakerson's Event.

The Commercial club met in regular session Tuesday evening, and a fairly good attendance was present. Several matters were discussed and action taken on several of them.

County Superintendent Oakerson talked on the corn and domestic science contests to be held this fall, and said that the indications are that there will be 500 entries for the corn growing contest and as many as that for the domestic science contest. Many of the business men of the city have been seen and $500 has been solicited so far for this event. There are a number of the merchants who have not been called on, and Professor Oakerson expects that the subscription from the merchants will amount to $800 or $1,000. This money will be used for premiums in these contests. This affair this year will be a three-day one.

The Commercial club passed a resolution appropriating $40 to the show for advertising purposes. Mr. Oakerson was also empowered to name a committee from the Commercial club to assist him in this work.

A letter from the St. Joseph Ad club was read, inviting the Commercial club to be guests of that organization in St. Joseph in the near future. No action was taken in the matter except the appointing of a committee, composed of E. G. Orear, D. R. Eversole and G. B. Roseberry, to look into the matter and have power to act.

Another matter taken up was that of taking in the commercial travelers who reside in this city as members of the club. Some members present thought that the charter did not allow this, so the matter was given to a committee, composed of Harry Todd, Ed Curfman and John Price. In connection with this matter, the plan of organizing an ad club was discussed and seemed to meet with the approval of many of the members. However, no action was taken.

A committee composed of John Price, Berney Harris and A. I. Campbell was appointed to look after the night watchman, who is appointed by the Commercial club. Some complaints have recently been made of this officer.

Maurice Egan of near Clyde was in Maryville Tuesday on business. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mamie, who remained to learn dressmaking under the direction of Mrs. C. B. Roberts of East Third street.

Gone to Oklahoma.

Mrs. Arthur S. Robey and little son, Lawrence LaVerne Robey, left Wednesday evening for Okmulgee, Okla., to visit Mrs. Robey's son, Otho Robey, and wife. Otho Robey is manager of the Western Union telegraph office at Okmulgee.

BROWN FAVORS DIRECT VOTE

Nebraska Senator Replies to Depew and Lodge.

SAYS PEOPLE ARE IN EARNEST

They Want Representative Government and Cannot Be Joked or Driven From Their Position—Proposed Changes Logical.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Supporting the resolution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, Norris Brown (Neb.) made a reply in the senate to the recent speeches of Senators Lodge and Depew opposing the amendment.

Brown said that while the New York senator had been facetious and interesting, the Massachusetts senator had been sarcastic.

"The American people," he said, "cannot be joked or smiled or driven from their determination to have a direct voice in public affairs. Representative government is dear to them. They would preserve and perpetuate it. They would oppose as a public enemy any attempt to impair or imperil its institutions. They would save them all.

"How natural and logical, then, is their desire to become closer and more directly identified with their servants and representatives, whether in the national congress or in state legislatures, and to have a more direct voice in the laws of the land which is theirs. The movement toward popular government will not destroyed privilege, is will save it."

Declaring that the ninety-two men in the senate have not the right to deprive the 92,000,000 people in the United States of the right to express their own wishes in the matter of senatorial elections, Brown supported the proposed change as in the line of popular demand.

BRINGS IN DENEEN'S NAME

Senator Bailey's Argument for Lorimer Takes Sensational Turn.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Senator Bailey was prompt in resuming his argument in the senate in support of the report of the committee on privileges and elections, exonerating Senator Lorimer (Ill.) from the charge of bribery in connection with his election to the senate. He quickly entered on sensational grounds by practically charging forgery against the Illinois State bank of Chicago, in which, he said, Governor Deneen is interested.

The Texas senator returned to the consideration of his charge that the bank deposit slip evidencing State Senator Holstlaw's deposit in the State bank of Chicago was a forgery. He referred to the fact that Senator Cummins had sought to introduce the original slip, which it was claimed had been made out by Chief Clerk Newton of the bank.

Mr. Cummins, Bailey said, had permitted him to take the paper and added that his examination of it had only had the effect of confirming his theory that the slip had been a forgery. He was sure that the handwriting shown in Newton's signature was not the same as that on the slip.

What he admitted a delicate branch of his investigation was then entered on by Bailey. Expressing surprise that the slip only and not the books of the bank had been introduced in the testimony, the senator said that the slip was the only paper on the bank's files that could have been forged. He appreciated, he said, the seriousness of such a charge as this, but he seemed to find a possible explanation in Governor Deneen's connection with the bank.

MRS. COLDEN DIED WEDNESDAY MORNING

Mrs. John W. Colden passed away at her home in Wilcox Wednesday morning at 5:25 o'clock, after an illness of eighteen months' duration, brought on by a stroke of paralysis, and a second stroke last Saturday morning was the immediate cause of her death.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church, South, in Wilcox Burial in the Heflin cemetery.

Mrs. Colden was born in Ashland, O., January 26, 1847. Her maiden name was Susan Harriett Gingrich. Her father, Jacob Gingrich, moved his family to Peoria county, Ill., when she was a small child. She grew to womanhood in that county and in 1869 was married to John W. Colden of Switzerland county, Ind., and located in Stark county, Ill., where they lived until 1880, when they moved to Nodaway county, Mo., and settled on a farm two miles east of Burlington Junction. Later they purchased a farm one and a half miles northeast of Wilcox, where they lived until a few years ago, when they moved to Wilcox.

Two children, a daughter and a son, were born to them, Mrs. Brice Hall, who, with her family, live on the home farm near Wilcox, and Charles J. Colden of Kansas City, both of whom were with their mother when she passed away. Mrs. Charles Colden arrived in Maryville Thursday noon from Kansas City to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Colden is survived also by two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Cook of Burlington Junction and Mrs. Mary Reed of Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Colden was a woman of intelligent, strong, true, unassuming Christian character, and all who met her were impressed by her bright, sunny disposition. She was thoroughly devoted to her home and her children, and gave her life to those who were nearest and dearest to her. She had always enjoyed excellent health until first stricken with paralysis, and her affliction was a great trial, but she bore it bravely. Last summer she was taken to Kansas City for a visit with her son and his family, where she had wished very much to go, but the trip was not as beneficial as it was hoped it would be. She had many friends who will hold her in loving remembrance.

ONE BIG FOOL.

But He Didn't Live in Maryville Nor Read The Democrat-Forum.

A man in Connecticut gave a doctor, a specialist in catarrh, $50 to cure him of this common yet most obnoxious disease.

The specialist gave him a bottle of medicine and told him to use it.

The fool took the medicine home, took one dose, put it on a shelf and made no further effort to follow instructions.

Three months later, with the medicine still on the shelf, he told a friend that the specialist was a fake; that he had paid him $50 and still had catarrh.

Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me) won't cure catarrh if you don't breathe it; it will if you breathe it regularly.

Furthermore, you don't need to give a catarrh specialist $50 to cure you of catarrh, for the specialist is yet to be born who can write a better prescription than Hyomei.

The Orear-Henry Drug company and druggists everywhere guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh or money back. A complete outfit, which consists of a bottle of Hyomei, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use, costs only $1.00. Separate bottles of Hyomei if afterward needed cost but 50 cents.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend in a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle and is recommended and sold by

Koch Pharmacy.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

Both Glad to Recommend Parisian Sage, the Guaranteed Hair Grower and Dandruff Cure.

Mrs. J. R. Burgess writes from 514 Plum street, Danville, Va., June 4, 1910, as follows:

"I have used Parisian Sage and find it to be all you claim for it, and cheerfully recommend it to any one who is suffering from any hair, dandruff or scalp trouble."

On the same date Ruth Odille Burgess, the charming little daughter of Mrs. Burgess, wrote:

"I am only a little girl, but I want to tell what Parisian Sage has done for me. I had scalp disease that looked like dandruff, and when it was combed up there would be a bloody water under the dandruff. Mamma tried everything in the way of hair tonics, without results, until she saw the advertisement of Parisian Sage; she got a bottle and it cured me, but kept on using it. Now I have as beautiful a head of hair as any girl."

Men, women and children, in every section of America who are using ordinary commercial hair tonics should give Parisian Sage a trial. It is so far ahead of all others that one application will prove its great superiority.

It is guaranteed by the Koch pharmacy to stop falling hair and itching scalp, and to drive out all dandruff in two weeks or money back. It grows hair in abundance and gives to the hair a lustrous and fascinating appearance. Fifty cents a large bottle at the Koch pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

MILLIONS OF LIVES.

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption—Many Unnecessary Deaths.

If people could only understand that systemic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which, when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Mucu-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make a marked impression upon the case. Of course, in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Maryville only at our store, the Rexall store. The Orear-Henry Drug Co.

HOUSE VOTES FOR RECIPROCITY

McCall Bill to Carry Out Treaty Passes by 221 to 92.

REPUBLICANS DIVIDED IN TWO

Long and Bitter Debate Precedes the Final Action—Aid of Cloture Rule Is Invoked and All Amendments Are Shut Off.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Taft's reciprocity with Canada was ratified in the house of representatives through the support of an almost solid Democratic vote. The McCall bill carrying the agreement into effect was passed, 221 to 92.

A majority of the Republicans present voted against the measure, the division being 78 ayes and 87 noes. The Democratic vote was 143 ayes and only 5 noes. A majority of the Republican insurgents present voted for the bill.

The McCall bill now goes to the senate. What its fate will be in that body is problematical. President Taft believes if a filibuster can be avoided and a vote taken, the bill will pass. He is insistent that the senate shall act one way or the other and has indicated that he would call an extra session of congress if it does not do so.

Debate Long and Bitter.

The passage of the bill in the house came at the end of a long debate, which at times was as bitter as has been heard on the floor of that chamber in years. The fight was confined almost wholly to the Republican side. Democratic members joined in from time to time and taunted the majority members for the lack of unity.

The Democratic leaders also put in the claim that the reciprocity agreement was good Democratic doctrine and declared they were glad to welcome President Taft and many of the house Republicans into the Democratic fold.

A final vote was reached only through the application of a cloture rule, which shut off all amendments and even dispensed with the reading of the bill. This procedure was decided upon only after McCall, in charge of the bill, had failed to get unanimous consent to do away with the calendar today.

If that had been secured, he said, he would have been glad to let the debate continue for another legislative day. The Republicans opposed to the bill fought the rule, denouncing it in caustic language. They directed their fire especially against the Democrats and accused them on the eve of going into power of the house of enforcing a "gag rule" as drastic as anything against which they had so eloquently inveighed in the past.

Clark Replies.

Champ Clark took Representative Dalzell (Pa.) sharply to task for complaining of the "undue haste" with which the house was acting on the reciprocity measure.

The speaker-to-be said the Democrats had sat for years bound and gagged while the gentleman from Pennsylvania and his associates had brought in rule after rule and had rushed legislation through without giving an opportunity for amendment.

Under the cloture rule, which was adopted by an overwhelming vote, the only loophole left to the opponents of the measure was a motion to recommit the bill to the committee of the whole house, with instructions to report certain amendments. When the time came to do this half a dozen members were clamoring for recognition.

Dalzell was recognized by Speaker Cannon. He proposed that meat and meat products, flour, prepared cereals, lumber and several other articles be put on the free list. The Democrats were not shaken by this and the motion was lost—114 to 191.

The cloture rule had been agreed to previously by a vote of 198 to 107. It has been apparent for several days that the reciprocity measure would have an overwhelming majority in the house. The feeling displayed in the house was so intense at times that it surprised members on both sides of the house. Some of the "old guard" Republican leaders, like Dalzell (Pa.) and Fordney (Mich.), veiled but thinly their predictions that the Republican party would be defeated by reason of what they characterized a departure from the principle of protection and the espousal of free trade.
